

2024 SUBMISSIONS REFERENCE GUIDE

JUNOS

Eligibility

- Product must be released for national sale* (in stores or online for all Canadians to access) or via a recognized national music streaming provider. The first available consumer access, as noted on each individual platform, will be the release date for JUNO Awards eligibility purposes. Product released (digital or physical) only internationally (not in Canada) outside of the eligibility period, may be eligible as long as the Canadian release date falls within the eligibility period.
- Product must be released during the eligibility period: September 1, 2022 through to November 2, 2023.
- Albums available for pre-order online no later than November 2, 2023 will also qualify. Pre-ordered online albums (digital or physical copies) must be delivered to the consumer (electronically or physically) no later than November 16, 2023. Proof of transaction may be requested. Pre-order eligibility does not apply to Music Video of the Year.

*Product must be released nationally via brick and mortar stores or third-party online retailers.

Product must be released via a nationally accessible streaming service that has paid subscriptions, full catalogue, or on-demand streaming. Eligible streaming services are Canadian versions of Amazon Music, Apple Music, YouTube Music, Soundcloud PRO, Spotify, Tidal.
